

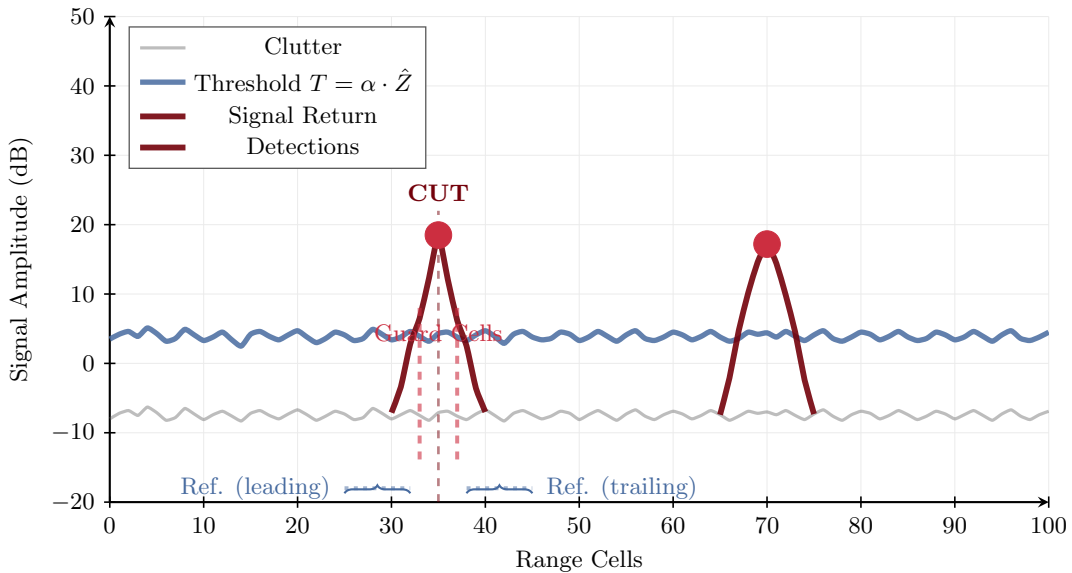

Figure 1: Cell-averaging CFAR detection applied to a marine radar range profile. The adaptive threshold follows local clutter power, maintaining a constant false alarm rate across spatially varying background conditions. Target returns exceeding the threshold are declared detections.